Subject: Re: Union Tribune Public Union Corruption Cover Up

Wow! I am very confident that our news staff has never been paid to not cover corruption. Please provide any proof of this allegation

Mr. Manchester,
I understand you are the new owner of the Union Tribune, and all reports indicate you are an honest man that does not like public union corruption and cover up. A two year undercover investigation of public corruption in San Diego County, and its financial connections to the news media has been to say the least, eye opening. That investigation included the Union Tribune.

I have watched as the UT reporters avoided investigating and reporting on first responder election fraud and massive evidence tampering, which included news media groups taking large amounts of money from the unions as the same time they protected them from coverage.

I gave large amount of the documentation to the UT and other news groups, and watched as the reporting on the corruption was limited to the involved republicans, while unions and democrats directly connected to the same corruption were exempt from investigations and coverage.

I would like to talk with your before I start publishing on Union Tribune corruption. Current publications are on the below web site. It is complex, extensive, and the protected union money trails lead from the Oceanside election fraud and the DA's office into Attorney General's office, the Governor's office, and major news media groups including the Associated Press.
